The fiscal year of 2016-2017 marked our first full year in our newly opened, renovated and expanded building. Dubbed The New Westmoreland, it is not just a new building set in a new landscape—it is our way of creating a more hospitable art museum for our visitors and a welcoming invitation to the community to come, enjoy the landscape and terraces, and experience the galleries, gathering spaces and art making places.

The year saw four changing exhibitions in our new cantilevered gallery that, along with the excitement of the reopened building, brought in a 7 percent increase in visitation over a 10-year historical average. They included nationally travelling exhibitions: A Shared Legacy: Folk Art in America (July 9-October 16) and When Modern Was Contemporary (February 25-May 21); exhibitions curated in house featuring contemporary Pittsburgh-based artists: Opposites Attract: Sylvester Damianos and Kathleen Mulcahy (November 5-February 5); and The Art of Movement (opened on June 10) showing the work of Tim Prentice and the artists who inspired him, including Alexander Calder and George Rickey.

Analog Scroll, a work of public art by New York artist Janet Zweig that “bridges the gap” between downtown and the Museum, was installed on Main Street along a bridge that spans railroad tracks still very active with freight and passenger train travel. Every two weeks a stanza of a poem titled “Main Street Bridge, Greensburg” by Pittsburgh writer Jan Beatty is revealed through metal letters dragged along tracks holding them in place. Additionally, we were proud to partner with Think Greensburg and the Westmoreland Cultural Trust to present a successful Art & Shopping Crawl event in November on Small Business Saturday and coinciding with our Fall Family Day that brought nearly 600 people to the Museum.

Works from our collection were seen outside our own walls with loans of our well-loved Mother and Two Children by Mary Cassatt to two museums in Japan; our newly acquired Turtle Creek by John Kane from the Estate of Richard M. Scaife to the Brandywine River Museum for an exhibition titled Rural Modern: American Art

Beyond the City, which then travelled to the High Museum in Atlanta; and other works that were loaned.

And, numerous wonderful works of art entered our collection as gifts and acquisitions. Please make note of the list later in this report.

We also adopted a new Strategic Plan to guide us into the future that is community centric and inclusive. For some of the work we did in this area, we were proud to have received the Westmoreland County YWCA’s Racial Justice Award. Our new mission, vision and values—also adopted this year—can be found on our website at thewestmoreland.org.

Major changes are ahead for the Museum as a new Director/CEO will take the helm of The Westmoreland in Summer 2018 after my retirement, having served in the position for 25 years. I look forward to the exciting future happenings at The Westmoreland as it takes on new challenges and seeks new opportunities—all made possible through support from our donors and members.

Sincerely,

Judith Hansen O'Toole
The Richard M. Scaife Director/CEO

Art Exhibitions

Cantilever

A Shared Legacy: Folk Art in America

July 9–October 16, 2016

Drawn from the private collection of Barbara L. Gordon, this exhibition tells the story of the extraordinary work created by self-taught or minimally trained artists in New England, the Midwest, the Mid-Atlantic, and the South between 1800 and 1925. The exhibition is organized and circulated by Art Services International, Alexandria, VA.

Opposites Attract: Kathleen Mulcahy and Sylvester Damianos

July 9–October 16, 2016

Both artists were selected as Westmoreland Museum of American Art Exhibition Award Winners from AAP Annual Exhibitions in 2010 and 2011 respectively.

When Modern Was Contemporary: Selections from the Roy R. Neuberger Collection

February 25–May 21, 2017

This pivotal exhibition is drawn from the collection of financier Roy R. Neuberger (1903–2010). The exhibition was curated by Tracy Fitzpatrick and is organized and circulated by the American Federation of Arts, New York, NY and the Neuberger Museum of Art, Purchase, NY.

The Art of Movement: Kinetic Art of Alexander Calder, George Rickey and Tim Prentice

June 10–September 17, 2017

Loan exhibition organized by The Westmoreland's Chief Curator, Barbara L. Jones. All three use repetitive abstract patterns, work with balance and counterweights, use no mechanical or electrical operating parts, and wait for the air to activate their work.

Robertshaw

Please Touch & Create Fun

July 9–October 16, 2016

Not only will you be able to have direct contact with the objects in this gallery but we encourage you to have fun and “touch” your creative side by making a piece of your own from the supplies provided.

Richard Stoner: Metamorphosis

October 14, 2016–January 8, 2017

Photographer Richard Stoner spent two years documenting the transformation of The Westmoreland, from the “Wrecking Ball” closing party in 2013 to the completed construction in 2015.

Celebrating the Worker in America

January 17–February 26, 2017

An exhibition highlighting the working men and women who made America great (works on paper from the Permanent Collection).

Artist in Action: Scott Hunter

March 10–May 7, 2017

According to Scott, his mural Authorized Personnel Only is not meant to be “read” literally but invites conversation from our visitors. It is a montage of images for viewers to explore and create their own story.

Handle With Care: Pittsburgh Society of Sculptors

June 9–July 30, 2017

This exhibition upends the regulation of no touching by inviting viewers to be active participants with these sculptures by encouraging hands-on interaction. Juried by The Westmoreland's Chief Curator, Barbara L. Jones, and artist, Kathleen Dlugos.

This statement is an excerpt of the Museum's financial statements, which include additional financial statements and notes to the financial statements.

Please note that total revenue includes the following: multi-year pledges for which payments has not been received and temporarily restricted gifts (gifts restricted by the donor for a specific purpose or time period).

The notes are an integral part of the Museum's financial statements that for space puposes cannot be printed here.

Foundations and organizations requiring a full copy of the Museum's 2016–2017 audited financial statements may contact the Museum at 724.837.1500 x127

Your Country. Your Art. Your Museum.

Through the generous support of our community, The Westmoreland is able to bring enriching art experiences into the lives of more people—locally, nationally and even internationally. This includes thousands of school age children who are introduced to the art and history of their own region and nation each year.

Take the lead to ensure that your Museum will continue to grow and thrive, allowing current and future generations to experience American art.

Make a difference. Give today!
