The Westmoreland Museum of American Art

The nationally recognized collections of The Westmoreland bring together over 4,000 objects of fine and decorative American art from the mid-18th century through the present, including a unique focus on the art of Southwestern Pennsylvania. The collections relate directly to the historical and cultural heritage of the region by presenting the fine and decorative arts of Southwestern Pennsylvania within the context of the broader American art scene. Through the collections, visitors learn about art as an expression of history and culture of the region.

2018-2019 at The Westmoreland

In August 2018, near the beginning of the 2018-2019 fiscal year (July 1, 2018–June 30, 2019), The Westmoreland appointed Anne Kraybill as The Richard M. Scaife Director/CEO. Becoming only the third director in the Museum's history, Anne and the staff embarked on a collaborative process to develop a new mission and vision for the Museum as well as a set of shared values for the staff.

Mission: The Westmoreland Museum of American Art offers a place to share compelling and meaningful cultural experiences that open the door to new ideas, perspectives and possibilities.

Vision: We imagine a world in which everyone feels valued and represented.

The Westmoreland Museum of American Art is:

Welcoming: Every guest, staff member, and volunteer is greeted warmly.

Inclusive: Diversity of thought, experience, and perspective are valued.

Collaborative: Bringing that diversity to the table, across departments and throughout the community, makes our work stronger.

Kind: We may not always agree. We practice blameless problem solving to work towards a solution.

Inspiring: We are a team of creative doers. After all, we work at an art museum!

In November 2018 after the tragic Tree of Life shootings that shook the Pittsburgh region and the nation, the Museum staff and board made the decision to move from a suggested donation admission model to offering completely free admission in order to remove this barrier making The Westmoreland more accessible at time when museums and other arts and cultural institutions were needed even more than ever.

Opening in March 2019, Mingled Visions: The Photographs of Edward S. Curtis and Will Wilson and the exhibition's associated programming were recognized by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette claiming the number one spot on their "2019 Best of Art in Western Pennsylvania" list.

Additionally, the Museum presented a full year of events and other programs, including monthly Community Days and Art on Taps as well as educational tours for school children, art classes for youth and adults and much more.

The following pages provide detail of our featured exhibitions; the art acquisitions, gifts and loans for the year; all those who made the year possible from board, staff and volunteers to members and donors; and our financial statement of activities.

2018-2019 Cantilever Gallery Featured Exhibitions

Artists Who Teach

August 25–November 28, 2018

Artists Who Teach celebrates the incredible talent and broad range of art making in this region today. The 58 artists in this exhibition are all inspiring the next generation of artists by teaching at Carlow University, Carnegie Mellon University, Chatham University, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Robert Morris University, Seton Hill University, Saint Vincent College, University of Pittsburgh/University of Pittsburgh-Greensburg and Westmoreland County Community College.

Circular Abstractions: Bull's Eye Quilts

December 15, 2018–March 10, 2019

Guest Curator Nancy Crow challenged the 32 participating artists to create a design based upon the bull's eye pattern: four circles in the style of a target symbol, set in a grid of four blocks, or quadrants. Artists responded to the invitation by deconstructing and rebuilding the bull's eye into new compositions. The result is a strikingly complex body of images, with each piece conveying its own distinct voice.

Mingled Visions: The Photographs of Edward S. Curtis and Will Wilson

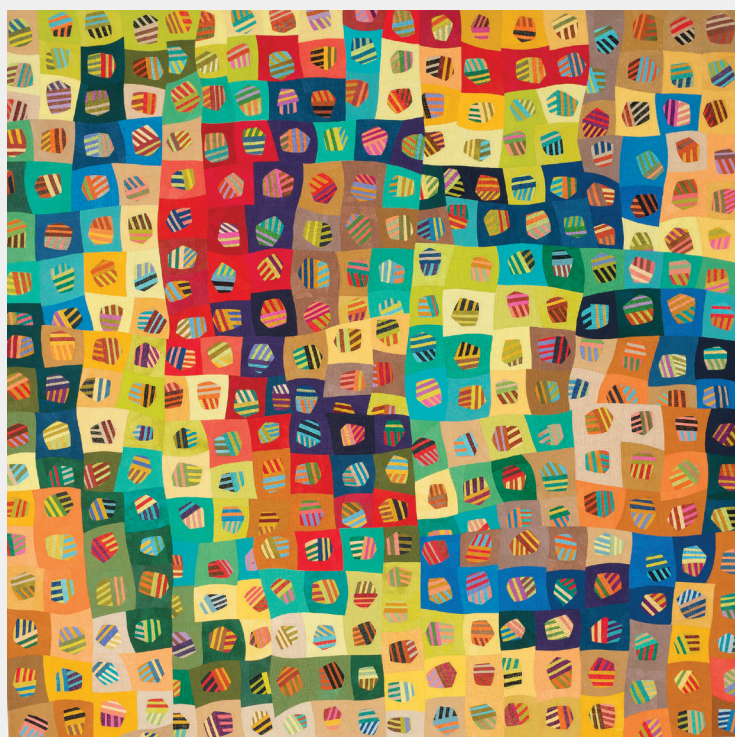

March 30–June 30, 2019

This exhibition pairs two photographers who share a vision to produce a permanent record of Native peoples.

The Outsider's Gaze

March 30–June 30, 2019

A small focus exhibition that sets the stage and provides context for the work in Mingled Visions.

Through the generous support of our community, The Westmoreland is able to bring enriching art experiences into the lives of more people—locally, nationally and even internationally. This includes thousands of school age children who are introduced to the art and history of their own region and nation each year.

Take the lead to ensure that your Museum will continue to grow and thrive, allowing current and future generations to experience American art.

Make a difference. Give today!
